SGT PEPPER PICKS A PACKA PICKLED CITIES

This is a tale of four cities . . . Saigon must resemble the scene and horror and insanity of the Kennedy assassination every day, for it is now under direct bombardment of rockets.

In Paris, "for the second night in a row," explosions rocked the city like a rapid fire machine gun as concussion grenades of the police smashed amongst the students. Clouds of black smoke and white teargas billowed upwards, mingling with the flame and smoke of "thousands of small fires" in the heart of the capital.

In Berlin, a crisis is developing as East Germany issued new travel regulations to this city. A person must now get a permit to enter East Germany BEFORE going to Berlin.

In Hongkong, tear gas was used to "breakup" demonstrations over the fact many alleged Chinese communists have been held for weeks in detention-camps. This demonstration brought to public light for the first time the existence of these camps.

Meanwhile, back in Vietnam, what Hanoi and Haiphong had experienced for over two years now has come to Saigon, the former French 'Pearl Of The Orient.'

The NLF has told the inhabitants to leave. They leafleted the city continually since the Tet offensive. The US Military and Saigon officials brushed off these leaflets as propaganda.

Now, they are picking up the dead.

Gen Westmoreland has described the rocket attacks as indiscriminate and only to "grab headlines." He even announced that while he was back in the US a week ago, he was "amazed" to see how "important" they have become in our press.

The following people in Saigon must also be amazed: Rear Admiral K. L. Veth, the UPI, the AP, the South Viet Navy Hq., people in the "inner core" of Saigon, the 'Madonna of Peace' a statue which stands in 'John F. Kennedy Square,' Saigon's City Hall, Independence Palace, U. S. Embassy, leading hotels, the National Assembly, the Radio Corporation of America, U.S. officers club, the Old Gia Long Palace, Air Vietnam.

All these places were damaged. People found themselves diving for cover under beds and tables.

Another person diving for cover was the Prime Minister of Australia, fresh from getting a medal from LBJ in Washington DC. The shakeup in Saigon's military command expected last week by Sgt. Pepper took place this week, with the PM almost getting his ass shot off in the process.

A gun battle occurred between South Viet troops and their national police a few hours after the government announced a new change in command.

The shots rang out as PM John Gorton was at a reception in his honor (sic!). The fighting threw his body-guards into a panic (just like Kennedy).

Our new Chief of Staff of the Army of the United States, Gen Westmoreland, is not bothered, however. He goes on to bigger and better things.

Aren't we lucky to be living under such leadership? Pres Johnson has said he would follow "this man" anywhere... anywhere but Saigon, at the moment, if you please!

The next change in command will come among the US Military in Saigon. With almost 2000 US troops killed in Vietnam in ONE MONTH (May), the highest total for the entire war, "this man" just announced that the "enemy" has been "defeated at every turn."

Heil Hitler! One more "victory" like Saigon, and we are done.

The Japanese government, however, is not waiting for our victory. It has ordered back to Japan all civilians and families because Saigon is no longer a "safe area."

The Army is not alone with geniuses like "this man." Consider: A Navy captain testified that the lost submarine Scorpion was considered safe although its system for emergency surfacing did not work.

Look, man—that sub is lost, and so are 99 men! Yet this chicken-shit captain can make such a remark as this? Other reports have come out that the Scorpion had a leak in its propeller-shaft, that its hull had "hairline cracks" in it—all discounted by Navy brass at the current hearings on the missing sub.

We who live in the Bay Area are about to be blessed with the same idiocy. A "major anti-ballistic missile installation" will be set up around the SF Bay.

It is to "guard" us from a "nuclear attack" by Red China. It "won't protect us" from "highly sophisticated Russian missiles" but rather from the not-so-sophisticated "Chinese missiles."

Over $5,000,000,000 (that's BIL-

WHAT'S THE ODDS?

ON LBJ'S ASSASSINATION

Although LBJ's decision not to seek re-election came as a shock to many people, his decision was made in full accord with his policy of personal gain. Realizing it was impossible to achieve re-election through his popularity, Johnson embarked upon a strategy where the hopeful result would be an American public that believed they were duped into serious peace negotiations by the insincere commies, who in the meantime would have, according to the press, committed horrible atrocities which LION!) will be spent nation-wide. So, we are saving the money by trusting the Russians, a very interesting situation that should make our pro-Soviet friends wonder (if they ever wonder at all).

Perhaps the SF Chronicle could look into something they exposed back in 1945, just as the war (THAT one) was ending. They found out that SF Bay, the area just off Alcatraz, was to be used as an "anchoring area" for ships loaded with "high explosives."

Military authorities, when asked what the hell was going on (after all, the war WAS over), replied: "We expect to go to war with an Asiatic power within the next ten years."

This produced such a flap that the "anchoring area" was removed and nothing more was said about it. Now, twenty eight years later, this "Asiatic power" is little Vietnam.

Well, it is better to lose a war in Vietnam than lose it, say, in China or Russia.

would demand retribution at the hands of the US. Meanwhile, Johnson, who had hopefully been waiting in the wings, would step forth and say, 'My Fellow Americans... lying commies... you need me.' The Americans would realize that if a war maker is needed they might as well get a good one and Johnson would subsequently be re-elected with the status of wartime dictator.

If the US public is not gullible enough to fall for that line, Johnson will only feel the pain at the rate of 100,000 dollars a year which is a small sum compared to the risks involved in seeking and campaigning for the presidency on a personal non-dictatorial platform. Since Johnson has demonstrated his inept ability to conduct a popular dictatorship in an allegedly peaceful democratic nation, it is improbable that he will be re-elected without a mandate for all out war which he is seeking.

Perhaps Johnson's actions were not solely a political play to seek re-election, for there is reason to believe that the consideration of personal safety may have accounted for a large part of LBJ's decision to not seek re-election. The street service has compiled statistics as to the number of arrests made for threats to the president's life. They indicate that HST who was also a President during an unpopular war had his worst year when 32 people were arrested for threatening his life. Eisenhower averaged 19 threats ending in arrests a year of 152 for his 8 years in office. Johnson has passed 1,000 in his last three years.

Threats Resulting Arrests
1964	260
1965	300
1966	400
1967	475

The number of untraceable threats was not available, but as a rule of thumb Congressmen consider each letter to represent the views of 1,000 people. So at least, one would guess, there is a half million people who would pose a threat to Johnson. The number would probably be much higher if it were possible to count everyone who says, 'They ought to take the bastard out and shoot him.' Obviously a personal campaign would be impractical and suicidal. It may be that Johnson, a man capable of raising his personal wealth from 3 million during his 64 campaign to 13 million now at the rate of 100,000 a year, either values his life or knows of a more profitable business.

GHOST SCOUTS BUM WAKE WITH LIVE FUZZ HELP

Three hundred Cub Scouts who didn't exist stopped a memorial wake for Robert Kennedy last Sunday in Golden Gate Park.

The Ghost Scouts had some help from the fuzz.

At about noon Sunday free people began to gather in Speedway Meadows to help celebrate a wake for the late Senator. The Grateful Dead and the Jefferson Airplane were in attendance and the event had been announced on KMPX and KSN.

As the band trucks arrived a cop Sergeant, badge #269 announced that the wake could not be held, since a group of Cub Scouts had prior permission to use the area. A tail-chasing argument with the Dead's manager ensued, and the cop eventually refused to tell the manager who to see about getting permission.

Three to four thousand people waited as this went on, and about 40 SF Tactical Squad superfuzz also waited in several cop cars. They had helmets and three-foot clubs ready.

The cops gave the Dead's manager 45 minutes to make a phone call. He did and came back without reaching anyone. The bands departed and about half of the crowd left as well.

Some of the remaining persons stayed to investigate. Motorcyclists fanned out over the area and could find no trace of a group of scouts. No scouts ever showed up at the meadow.

Later in the week the manager of the Airplane checked and found that no permit had ever been issued to any scouts for the meadow's use that day.

Of course minor matters like that could not obstruct the mind of Mayor Alioto. As reported in the mass press he loyally upheld the version of his cops. Fortunately, no Ghost Scouts had applied to use the meadow for the upcoming Sunday (June 16) and the wake may be held on that date. At BARB Press time no firm plans had been made.

The end of the world is at hand. This scoop came to BARB's attention from a handbill widely circulated in the Haight-Ashbury recently by the Icarus Day Committee.

Icarus, this time, is not a small boy, but is a wee bit of a planet about the size of Mt. Everest which is going to smash into the Earth Saturday, or will miss by 4 million miles, depending on who's doing the figuring.

Many Haight residents have fled to the Rockies to avoid tidal waves. Astronomers generally accept the 4 million mile computation, but renegades say it's a cover-up to keep folks tranquil while the government scratches its head.

The Icarus Day Committee is urging people to watch the spectacle from the top of Mount Tamalpais during a Celebration in Honor of Earth, beginning at midnight Friday, June 14, and continuing Saturday until it ends.

The arrival of the asteroid Icarus coincides with independent astrological predictions of fiery upheavals during the same period, due to the influences of larger celestial bodies. Followers of Jean Dixon and Edgar Cayce expect earthquakes, at least, around June 22.

A caller to BARB referred to a "Mr. Johnson" who, he said, was booted from MIT while working on a top-secret project to zap Icarus late Thursday with 40 rocket-borne nuclear bombs, to save us all from a nasty splash.

Meanwhile, whether the established astronomers or the Icarus Day Committee is right, the End of the World Party on Mt. Tam is expected to go on as scheduled.

As the caller to BARB said, "Since it may be the last party, it will probably be a good one."

H'ASH BAKER FEEDS POOR PEOPLE'S CITY

Walter E. Reynolds, the bread-baking computer engineer, is at it again in Resurrection City.

Reynolds and his wife Ruth, who started the highly successful Bake-in's in the H'ashbury last summer, spent the past two weeks in the Washington, D.C. encampment setting up the God's Eye Bakery.

God's Eye, described by Reynolds as "a non-commercial grooving company," consists of a couple of second-hand ovens in a gaily painted lean-to located near the center of the tent city.

With the help of several hip volunteers, $600 in donations, and a lot of hard work, the Palo Alto couple began turning out 15 loaves of whole wheat bread per hour. Working 16 hours a day, God's Eye Bakery has given away well over 2,000 loaves so far.

The baking technique is geared for high output with simple equipment. Reynolds whips up the dough in a garbage can vat.

The dough is baked in coffee cans and juice tins for an hour, and the hot bread is then sliced and served with melted margarine, honey, peanut butter, or jelly.

Most of God's Eye's output is served fresh from the oven to the camp's hungry residents, a wholesome dietary supplement to the campers, who usually get only one hot meal a day. The highly efficient breadline comes from a lot of experience in feeding undernourished people, including the Free Bakery at the H'ashbury's All Saints Episcopal Church.

GURU GINSBERG'S LITTLE HOMILIES ON HOLY NUDITY

"It's legal for me to run around naked, because I've been initiated into the Shivaite in India," explained Naga Sadhu Allen Ginsberg, advising Rev. J. Fuck Poland who is on trial for religious nudity. (A Naga Sadhu is a naked Hindu holy man.)

Poland admits he was stark naked when he read the Bible to his outdoor congregation in Golden Gate Park on Memorial Day, but claims nudity is a religious rite of the Neo-American Church and its Shiva Fellowship.

His ecclesiastical boss, Chief Boo Hoo Arthur Kleps of South Hero, Vt., affirms religious nudity as "a traditional and desirable aspect of Neo-American religious ceremonies and gatherings. It is not mandatory, of course, as our Church does not prescribe set and rigid forms for religious worship. We prefer to let the officiating clergy and their congregation interact as the spirit moves them."

Defense lawyer Sal Balistrere tried to void California's indecent exposure law for vagueness, but SF Muni Judge Harry Low overruled him. The statute punishes "Every person who wilfully and lewdly . . . exposes his person, or the private parts thereof . . ." Lawmakers failed to specify which parts they had in mind.

Probably the key element in this crime is the adverb "lewdly," meaning in a "lustful, lascivious, unchaste" manner, for sexual purposes. Like, a person who pisses in public does not expose himself with lewd intent, so there's a separate law against pissing. Neither does a priest who performs a nude public ceremony argue partisans -- his motivation is religious -- and the legislators have not yet passed any law against religious nudity.

Besides Poland's motivation, the concept of "lewdness" may raise the question of contemporary community standards, as in obscenity cases: just what is "lewd" in swinging San Francisco in 1968, especially near Hippy Hill?

Next court date: June 20, SF Hall of Justice, to select a jury.

FUZZ FOIL FAMILY FUN AT FUNKY FT. FUNSTON

One mounted policeman in uniform nudged out nudists at Old Fort Funston Beach, on Saturday, June 8. Most sunbathers hurriedly dressed before he got close.

He said he had received a complaint and told those still nude to put their clothes on, which they did. Then most of the nudists walked further south, out of his sight. But he did not follow them. He stayed at the original location for over an hour.

When several women bared their breasts there, he did not object.

The Sexual Freedom League and the Neo American Church plan to continue their series of weekly Nude-Ins at the Beach. See BARB Scenedrome section for announcement of date.

T-MEN FIND NAKED TRUTH A STONE BALL

"There's two men in business suits downstairs to see you," someone yelled.

Omigod, thought the chick, then flashed: oh, it's only the Internal Revenue Service. "Tell them to come right on up," she yelled from her bed, and resumed balling her lover.

The two agents climbed the stairs and stood politely outside her open bedroom door.

Her lover rolled off and invited them to come on in, which they did. "Just a few routine questions, Miss," they said, exhibiting their official ID politely.

Like many anti-war people, this one has refused to pay her telephone tax, which was passed to finance the Vietnam War.

She sat up in her bed, still nude, and rapped quietly about the war and the tax. The agents asked a bunch of questions about her income and financial situation, to determine if there's any convenient way for Uncle Sam to collect his $9 from her. There isn't, so they plan to "suspend collection"; that is, give up for a while.

Meanwhile other residents of the rooming house drifted in to watch the tedious interview process. Everyone was quite friendly, as certain questions brought amused smiles to the faces of T-Men and hippies alike: "Do you own any stocks or bonds?"

When they left, a neighbor gave them samples of underground publications. "You're sure this isn't a bribe?" joked an agent.

Our heroine invited them to come again sometime.

TWO SCREWS FOR THE FORCE BETTER THAN ONE

A Conscientious Objector subject to the whim of the US Air Force has begun to fight back in a precarious, lonely battle.

The Airman First Class, who wishes to remain anonymous, told BARB that he had previously decided to seek a discharge as a CO, and acted on this decision when he received orders to go to Vietnam.

He was sent to Travis Air Force Base and told to be on a plane. Then he was given a few days leave, as is usual. He attempted to put through his CO application there, but was refused the proper forms. "No jurisdiction" claimed the Travis authorities.

He was given two alternatives during the subsequent runaround—

NOT FOR FREE U? THEN TRY FREE HIGH

As long as Berkeley has a Free University, why not have a Free High School too.

Well, there is one now. Starting June 24th The Berkeley School will be conducting small classes and seminars of the Free University sort for high school students in the 7th to 12th grades.

Eight courses are listed in a four page catalog issued by Eugene Bergman, the founder and director of the Free School. Entitled "Revolt against summer boredom," the catalog outlines such courses as Creative Writing, Nature Awareness/Entomology, Origins of Art and a Sex Seminar.

Instructors for the courses come from the ranks of regular high school teachers, graduate students who have taught before, and undergraduates not wanting to go through the "nonsense of credentials" according to Bergman.

Enrollment is limited to about 15 to 20 students in most classes, and the tuition charge is $20 for an average of 20 hours instruction in each course. Most of the money will go to the instructors, says Bergman, and the rest will go to cover overhead expenses. The Berkeley School is a nonprofit organization.

Bergman says that additional courses may be added after three or four weeks if the idea catches on. He wants the school to "respond to student needs" and to "provide leadership if none are expressed."

The address of The Berkeley School is Box 418, Berkeley 94701. Bergman may be reached at 237-2811 between 6 and 8 PM.

FRANCE'S PRESENT LIKE GERMANY'S PAST

President Charles de Gaulle has "pitilessly dispersed" the student demonstrations in Paris this week but has not been able to stop demonstrations elsewhere in France.

He has the support of the French Communist Party which is claiming to be the "stable" party in France. "We stand for order and political responsibility" Waldeck Rochet, CP head, is quoted as telling a political rally.

All other political groups of the left had been dissolved. Daniel Cohn-Bendit is in England and is reported seeking political asylum.

Over 1500 students have been arrested (mostly in one night) while the Paris police pump truckloads of tear gas into the Sorbonne in an attempt to "flush out" the students. Gas and electricity also have been turned off go to Vietnam and file from there or violate the rules. He chose the latter, since CO applications from Vietnam are universally rejected.

The Airman stayed AWOL for two days, since he was afraid of being shanghaied. While out he sought out a lawyer and contacted the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors.

He returned to the base and after again refusing to board a plane for Vietnam was left alone and reassigned to a base squadron. Two weeks later he was given the proper CO forms and received an "administrative hold pending disposition on overseas assignment cancellation."

No charges have yet been filed, but the Airman is afraid that the Air Force will try to sweep his case under the rug. He is seeking a discharge as a CO or for the "convenience of the Air Force."

At present he has been told to follow standard operating procedure in such cases and see a chaplain, a legal officer (about possible forfeiture of VA benefits) and a psychiatrist.

We wish him luck. In another case, an Airman is showing how it is possible to blow the Air Force's electronic mind.

Also anonymous, the man decided that the AF was "amoral" ("since you have no choice") and a "fascist welfare system." He decided to refuse to be productive for that system.

He refused to continue working as an accountant and was set to sorting mail. He didn't do that with anything approaching efficiency and was set aside like a rusty tool. He refused to take mandatory "on the job training."

His secret was never to refuse a direct order but never to comply with one. Once he was ordered to put on the uniform he disliked. He did, but only after sleeping on it for three weeks.

After that they ordered him to report for five minutes each day and then to get lost. He spent the time in the base library.

Once he did not come to attention when the base commander passed by. An eager Lieutenant ordered him to brace up. He did, and the commander came over and started to ask him questions.

"Do you like it here?" asked the Colonel.

"As a romanticist I like California" replied the Airman; eyes straight ahead, chin down, arms at side.

The Colonel left and later refused to see him when he asked to.

The Airman's resistance went on for about 8 months. Apparently the Air Force has decided to discharge the troublemaker. Unsuitable.

He has helped provide an answer to the question of what would happen if they held a war and nobody came.

on the campus.

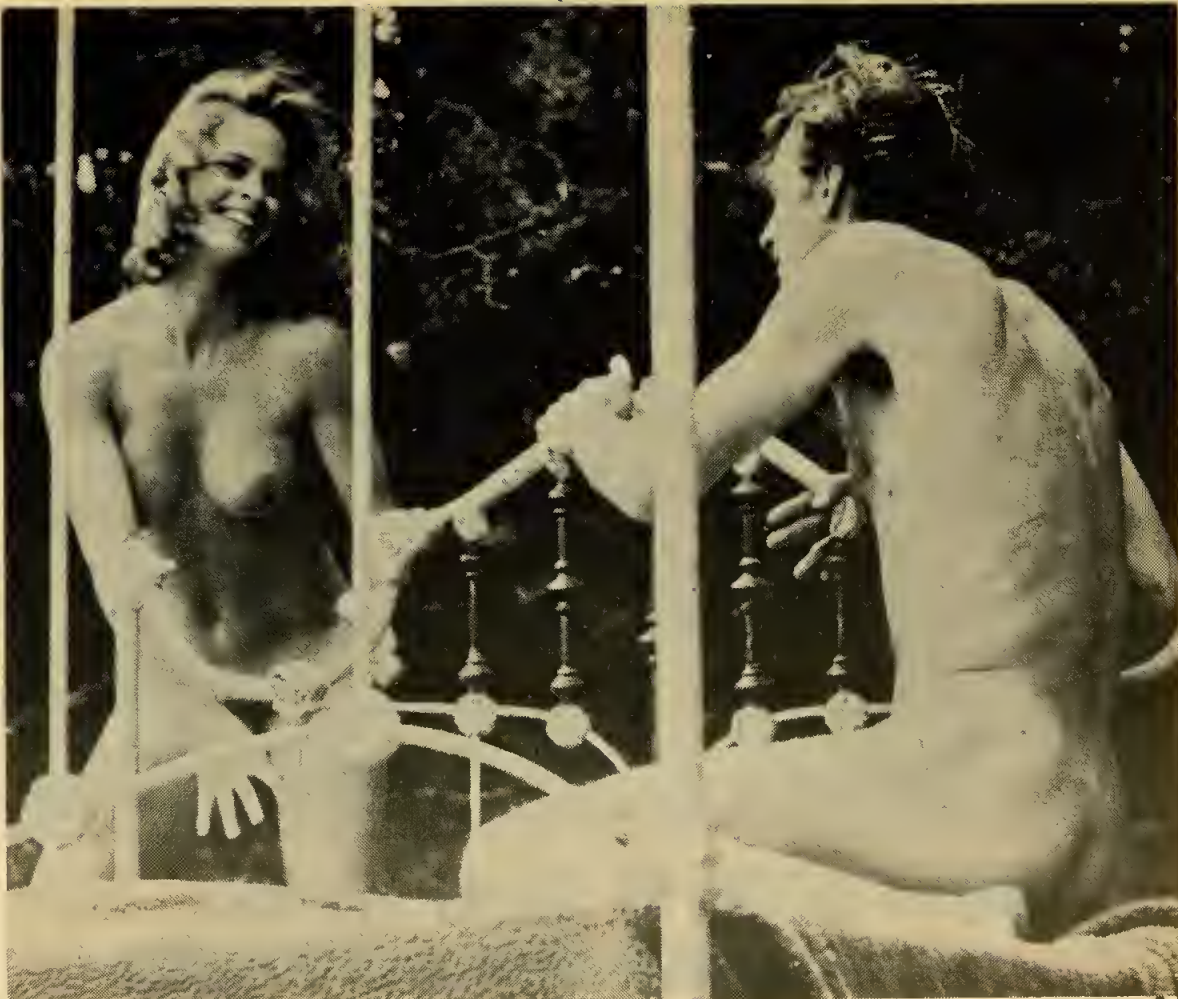

In the early days of Hitler, the Karl Marx Haus in Vienna, a modern socialist commune, was shelled into rubble by the private army of a Viennese Fascist Prince while the government of Premier Dollfus stood by and watched. So did the CP and the Social Democrats.

Today, the French CP is playing out the role of the Social Democrats under Hitler. The SD's then attacked the CP and told Hitler and Hindenberg they "stood for order and political responsibility." The old, doddering Hindenberg handed over the Mace of power to Hitler.

Today, old, doddering de Gaulle is handing over the Mace of Power to Biddault, Gen. Salan, Jacques Soustelle and other French Rightists.

Just as in the days before Hitler, the Communist Party is immobilized and defeated by their own doubts and hesitations as they watch the students "flushed out."

MEANING OF FREE

CLEAVER CLEARED ON ALL COUNTS; JAILERS CONDEMNED

"I would never allow anyone to place restrictions on my freedom of opinion or expression," Eldridge Cleaver told the press Wednesday, the first day out of Vacaville.

He spent nine and a half weeks there for "undue eloquence," a wrong reason, according to the judge who ordered his release. That this eloquence cannot be unduly curbed was more than clear as he faced the press.

"Is there any non-violent solution to the conflict between the Oakland police and the Black Panthers?" was one of the questions thrown at Eldridge Cleaver.

And Cleaver had a cool answer: "I expect to see the Oakland police department cave in. I think the police chief will be kicked out for someone who will understand what is going on in Oakland."

Cleaver was talking just two or three hours after his release. Any plans? a reporter asked.

"We have a lot of unfinished business. Our primary concern is freeing Huey Newton. We will rededicate ourselves to that purpose."

Wouldn't this lead to hassles, someone asked.

"I don't know any way to avoid hassles started by people of evil intent. I don't intend to be hassled out of my rights."

What about restrictions on Cleaver's relations with the Black Panthers?

"I would never allow anyone to place restrictions on my freedom of opinion or expression."

Asked about the police charge that he was armed on the night (April 6) that Bobby Hutton was killed, Cleaver snapped: "It is a lie. We will be able to prove in court it is a lie."

The ruling that freed Cleaver -- by Superior Judge Raymond Sherwin -- is of national importance, Attorney Charles Garry stated. "Here was a judge who had the courage to follow the law in spite of hysteria and racism. I hope others will follow."

How were relations with guards and other inmates at Vacaville? "The guards were laying bets on whether I would get out. The inmates were hoping I would make it. Many of them are there on the same kind of frivolous charges as mine, and some don't have counsel."

Did he get any new members for the Black Panthers while he was in jail, a reporter asked. "I wasn't surprised that among the black inmates almost 100 percent were eager to know about the Black Panthers. The information I gave them is known in more than one prison now, because I was assigned to the center where inmates are dispersed to other institutions."

Judge Sherwin's ruling was announced on June 11, but Cleaver was not released until the 12th. Garry explained that a $50,000 bond had to be raised. Many people contributed, he said, including the actor Godfrey Cambridge, who was present at the San Francisco press conference, held in Garry's offices.

The court ruling which freed Cleaver included the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus and ordered him "released from prison forthwith and reinstated on parole." It followed a hearing on June 3.

Judge Sherwin cited "uncontradicted evidence" that Cleaver had been a "model parolee" and said his jailing "stemmed from... his undue eloquence in pursuing political goals which were offensive to many of his contemporaries."

He added: "Not only was there absence of cause for the cancellation of parole, it was the product of a type of pressure unbecoming, to say the least, to the law enforcement paraphernalia of this state." For a judge, that is strong language.

Solano County District Attorney Glenn Stanley, acting at the request of the state attorney general, filed notice of appeal. Garry predicted that this appeal would not succeed.

Cleaver is a candidate for the presidency of the U.S. on the Peace and Freedom Party ticket. He said, in reply to a question, that he now expects to do some campaigning.

CLEAVER'S CALL

Eldridge Cleaver was answering "a call of nature" when the Oakland Police came around the corner of 28th Street in West Oakland on the night of April 6.

An affidavit written by Cleaver appears in the June 10 issue of The Black Panther, in which the Panthers' Minister of Information explains the details of what happened prior to and during the now-famous gunbattle of two months' ago.

The author-politician Cleaver, then imprisoned in Vacaville State Medical Facility, described the battle as "a direct result of frantic attempts by the Oakland Police Department to sabotage the Black Community Picnic," scheduled for April 7.

While the O.P.D. claims that the Panthers waited in ambush for them, Cleaver's affidavit says the shooting began after he was "overcome by an irresistible urge, a necessity" -- not to shoot a cop as was charged in the Grand Jury indictment, but "to urinate," according to Cleaver.

"While I was in the middle of this call of nature," Cleaver goes on, "a car came around the corner, and I found myself in danger of being embarrassed, I thought, by a passing car."

The car stopped, beamed a spotlight on Cleaver, and told him to walk out into the street with his hands up, according to the account.

"I had to deal with a ticklish situation," Cleaver said. "I was so close to the end that I could not resist finishing, shouting back to the cops, 'O.K., O.K.'"

The Panther leader wrote, "I was trying to zip up my fly and get out into the middle of the street," when the cops started shooting and firing upon him.

The statement, called "#2 affidavit of Eldridge Cleaver" in the Panther newspaper, describes how he ran for cover with Little Bobby (Hutton) and how they took shelter in the basement until firebombs blasted the two Panthers out of the tiny area.

Cleaver says he was struck in the chest by a tear gas canister and knocked down. He said that Hutton passed out for awhile and then came to.

"One of the shots found my leg and my foot, with an impact so painful and heavy that I was sure that I no longer had two legs," Cleaver wrote. He said that later, after the murder of Hutton, he pointed his wound out to a Captain on the Oakland police.

"The Pig of Pigs looked down at my wound, raised his foot and stomped on the wound," Cleaver recalled.

In this affidavit Cleaver explains that Bobby Hutton had undressed him to search for wounds while in the basement. Early reports in BARB attributed to Cleaver by his wife, indicated that Cleaver had told Hutton to undress also so that police would know he was unarmed. Hutton was clothed when he left the building, Cleaver was not.

This is how Cleaver described the exit from the cellar, and the shooting of Bobby Hutton:

"There were Pigs in the window above us in the house next door, with guns pointed at us, and

WHO WILL WATCH COPS WHEN COPS WATCH YOU

A citizens' patrol to keep watch on police activity in West Berkeley will begin to operate this weekend under the aegis of Area 4 of the Peace and Freedom Movement in Berkeley.

Members of the patrol -- Black, Mexican-American, and white -- will use cameras and tape recorders to document police actions in their own neighborhoods. Area 4 is in the flatland ghetto.

The multiple purpose of the patrol, according to its coordinator, Elizabeth Greer, will be to record police activities, to reduce the amount and kinds of harassment, and to educate people in the area about their civil rights.

A similar patrol sponsored by the Better Berkeley Committee two years ago in the South Campus area was thought by its participants to reduce both civilian fear of the police and the amount of intimidation of citizens by police.

Miss Greer noted that the PFM patrol might differ from that of the BBC "because it's a rather different neighborhood, and the times have changed a lot since then."

Leaflets distributed in West Berkeley have explained the intentions of the new PFM project.

"Black people have been very responsive to the idea," Miss Greer told BARB, "but white people have tended to become angry."

Initial patrols will include the use of several automobiles and police-band radios. Participants have been instructed to observe without interfering with police officers' performance of their duties.

HOW 12 CARS OF FUZZ BUSTED TWO BLACK OAKLAND HOUSEWIVES

Twelve squad cars of Oakland bulls busted two black Oakland housewives last Friday after stopping the women for a traffic violation, Mrs. Norma McClure told the BARB this week.

Before the ordeal was over, the women were handcuffed, searched, hit, held in solitary confinement, and then booked for resisting arrest, she said.

Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Dolores Huffman told BARB they were on their way to a meeting of the Black Strike for Justice when they were pulled over at 35th and San Pablo.

The two women started the organization more than a month ago.

"I was forced to stop my car and then one of the cops said to Dolores, 'You're under arrest.' She asked for what and the cop said, 'Nothing.' Then he dragged her from the car," Mrs. McClure stated.

"Then another policeman came and pulled me out of the car and handcuffed me to it. When he put the handcuffs on, he hit me bruising my arm."

The two housewives were then taken to jail, Mrs. McClure said, and held in solitary for five and a half hours without a phone call.

They were finally bailed out by John George, a leader of the Black Strike for Justice. Mrs. Huffman was charged with resisting arrest, Mrs. McClure was booked for the same offense, plus six minor traffic violations.

"There were about 12 cars and a paddy wagon," Mrs. McClure told BARB. "When they threw us in the paddy wagon after checking our purses for guns and narcotics, one of the policeman cursed me and said, 'shut up nigger bitch.'"

"Then they towed my car away and laughed about it."

When the two housewives reached the Oakland jail, they were held in separate solitary cells and not allowed to call home where their children waited alone, they said.

Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. McClure started the Black Strike for Justice more than a month ago when they began picketing Housewives Market in Oakland. The boycott of the market has continued since that time, attempting to put pressure on downtown merchants to help end police harassment in the ghetto.

"Our arrests were just what we've been picketing against,"

Mrs. McClure stated, "police brutality and harassment."

The two housewives plan to file a complaint with the ACLU this week. A number of witnesses to the arrest are prepared to testify on their behalf, they said.

BENEFIT FOR PRIESTS WHO RESIST

A cocktail party, benefiting ten Roman Catholic priests in their test case concerning selective conscientious objection, will be held Saturday, June 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Cole, 2071 Oakland avenue, Piedmont, 5 to 7 p.m.

Father Peter Riga, the outspoken anti-Vietnam war priest, will speak. A free autographed copy of his book, 'The Church Of The Poor,' will be given with the purchase of two tickets. Donation is $2.50.

OKAY, KIDS, THE COOKIES ARE COMING

The kids couldn't wait for the cookies, and the preacher couldn't wait for the wine, but the wedding still had a modicum of dignity and beauty. Friends sat under a tree in Berkeley's live Oak Park to witness the marriage of Nina Chertoff, 21, and Bob Baker, 25.

People read aloud from the Song of Solomon, sang folk songs. The bride and groom shared wine, then crushed the goblet underfoot in Hebrew fashion. Nina's daughter Erica, age 2, helped them exchange rings. Rev. J. Fuck Poland of the Neo-American Church declared them man and wife, and filled out the legal certificates.

Later the groom and minister attended another wedding in the same park -- an unidentified hip couple, wed by a straight minister who read from Kahlil Gibran's The Prophet.

The anarchistic Bakers don't dig the State, but decided to make their marriage legal so Bob can adopt Erica, who is the natural daughter of a hip postman. They'll honeymoon in Mexico, eventually buy an Arkansas farm and adopt non-white kids to make their family interracial.

DIGGIN' THOSE VIBES THAT RICHIE HAVENS WAY

by Jef Jassen

Richie Havens returned to the Bay Area Monday night and promptly turned the normally bustling hungry i into an intimate coffeehouse, reminiscent of the Greenwich Village basket houses in which he started several years ago.

Havens, a 27 year old black singer-guitarist who deals in his own brand of folk music, performed before an enthusiastically packed house, taking his audience on a marvelous roller coaster ride of musical emotion and good vibes.

Between sets BARB slipped backstage for a short rap, and the warm, sensitive Havens put it down like this.

"Well, yeah, where to start. Okay, my songs. My songs have to do with the progression of things that I learn about myself, with relation to what's inside me. It's like a subconscious story, dig.

"And when I sing for an audience, all the thoughts of the audience are like a story. So what I'm really trying to do is letting them say, 'Hey, I DO that, I FEEL that.' Maybe they don't know what to call it, but they know they've been there.

"My main interest is in learning about others and myself in relation to the universe. But 'others' and 'myself' is the same thing, really. What it really is is everybody. And I started wondering about this when I was eight years old... why isn't it the way everybody knows it should be?

"Without trying to sound like a preacher, my advice is look at Jesus Christ. Get to dig where that cat was at, in relation to where you're at. I mean the Bible is a science book—it's never been anything more or less—the science of how to live without hassles. That's really where it's at.

"There's a difference between man, men, and mankind. Man as man hasn't become yet. Man is perfect in being, mankind is where we are now. But we're getting to it... that was the plan in the first place.

"See, no individual can occupy more space than he can stand on—which is what, eight or ten inches?—but he attempts to do so by EXPELLING someone or something from where they are. And the only way he can do this is by force.

"For instance take sound. Words are the encasing of the sound. So if you say to someone, 'go away', go awayyyy—it never ends. And with the force of those words you can compel someone to go away."

"On the other hand, if you say 'come,' Commmmmmme. It's inside, hear it? MMMMMMM. It's inside so it is attracting. That's what brings a person to you. It's a positive force. So what you realschoolteacher with questions of his own. Havens signed the autograph, "A friend forever... Richie Havens."

He told BARB, "Sure, man. It's more of a way to communicate... because it's the truth."

The schoolteacher probed into a different field. "What good does it do me to discipline a kid if I know he's just going to go out and take it out on somebody else?"

"Well," Havens reflected, "as a schoolteacher you've also got to be a mother and father. See, punishment is the same thing as saying 'go away,' unless you make it a positive force. If you 'punish' in relation to your work, you do this. You go to the kid and you say 'I have a problem.' And by emphasizing the I you've already given him something constructive to work on.

"He KNOWS what problem, but nobody ever lets him talk about it. This way he's only too happy to help you with your problem. See, your students want to look at you as a friend, and you can change a person's whole thing with five words. Here you used four and still did it.

"It's like you can't just tell a kid something about mechanics without telling him it has a place in his life movement. Otherwise he can say 'So what!' What you want him to do is say 'What for?' constructively. It's the same thing as 'come.'"

Havens expressed optimism to BARB about the purported "long, 'hot summer' approaching. Nothing will happen this summer... at least not until after the election in the fall. People are just not in the rioting bag. Since the assassination, especially, they are more into themselves. I think that's good."

Havens will be at the hungry i for one more week, and is due for an appearance at the Fillmore Auditorium next month. He invites you all to come as you are.

RICHIE WITH DEAD IN FREE STORE GIG

Folk guitarist Richie Havens will perform in concert with the Grateful Dead at the Carousel Ballroom, June 19 from 7:30 to 2 a.m.

"A Soul Scene," the event given by the Blackman's Free Store, will feature Little Andre, a local 13-year-old showman, who will lead an all-soul cast. Lights are by the Holy See.

Mariachis, conga bands and folk ensembles will also perform. Tickets are on sale in San Francisco at the Print Mint, City Lights Bookstore, S.F. City College and S.F. State College; in Berkeley at Discount Records. For further information call Blackman's Free Store, 922-9841.

ly have is words being the casings of VIBRATIONS."

At this point Havens was momentarily and pleasantly interrupted by the outstretched hand of black comedian Godfrey Cambridge.

"Hey, brotner, I really dig you," the latter led off. "I came up through those same places, the Cafe Wha? and basket houses and all that. I was the one out there who said 'Do your thing' when all those people were telling you what to play. Good luck, brother."

Cambridge was followed in quick succession by a young man seeking an autograph and an Eighth grade

MANDEL SAYS FREEP NOT SO REALLY FREE

What's so free about the LA Free Press? This is the question William Mandel of Berkeley has been asking.

Mandel announced his candidacy

EVER TRIED RE-FUSING A WATTSICLE

By Lee Felsenstein
military editor

"Better things for better living through chemistry" is not just the LSD motto. It also refers to the increasing reliance on chemical protest by members of the underground.

The unseen bombers of the Berkeley Draft Board, who managed to make themselves well felt by the establishment, have shown a refreshing ability to explore and expand new media of protest.

However, they didn't do any really effective damage to the power structure. The only irretrievable loss lay in the broken windows of the Board.

Experimentation by these hit-and-run artists will probably reveal some general lessons;

*An explosion in a confined space can do great damage. In an unconfined space it is good mainly for attracting cops.

*A room with huge glass windows cannot be called "confined."

*Where no confined space is available, fragmentation - type casings on an explosive device can yield important results.

*Napalm A can be manufactured by mixing gasoline and liquid detergent, then pouring off the water.

*Do not heat a Coleman LP fuel can above 120 degrees Fahrenheit. It may explode in a tremendous ball of fire.

If the above seems rambling and incoherent, I assure you that it would do you no good.

Back in my high-school days when two friends and I were shooting up horribly dangerous rockets, we made delayed-action fuses by mixing our home-made gunpowder (potassium nitrate and charcoal, equal parts) with Duco Cement and rolling the sludge into long strands. We called them "shitsicles" and they took about 15 seconds to burn one inch.

Ah, if only one could bring the old days back.

for the U.S. senate on the Peace and Freedom slate, a month ago.

He told BARB that despite repeated efforts by both himself and his campaign manager, Dr. Richard White, the Free Press failed to print a word concerning his candidacy.

"This automatically means that I lose in L.A. where the Free (?) Press is read by a plurality if not a majority of PF registrants, as is the BARB here," Mandel stated before the primary elections last week.

BARB checked with Ted Zatyln, managing editor of the Free Press. "It was purely an accident," said Zatyln. So the news didn't reach southern California P&F voters unless they read the BARB, and that could be purely an accident.

Zatyln explained that Mandel's press release had somehow become buried in a stack of papers and wasn't discovered until Wednesday, April 12, 8 days after the primaries.

Mandel entered the campaign for senator a month ago at the request of a number of small P&F activists who were dissatisfied with the record of the convention endorsed candidate, Paul Jacobs.

Jacobs, before the Richmond P&F convention which endorsed him by a narrow margin, admitted to red baiting tactics in his union busting activities of the forties, but he claimed a clean radical slate since that time.

Mandel in announcing his candidacy, challenged Jacob's claims to radicalism and said that he could produce evidence to the contrary.

Mandel's charges, however, never saw print in the southern part of the state. Prior to the primaries, signed articles by Jacobs appeared frequently in the LA Free Press.

"Despite three letters from me to Kunkin (whom I know) and two calls from Dr. White, to whom Kunkin was 'unavailable', neither this issue nor the last (both of which had stuff on time) have carried one word," Mandel wrote to BARB.

Art Kunkin is editor and publisher of the LA Free Press.

His managing editor, Ted Zatyln, said that he knew nothing of those correspondences to Kunkin.

Write-in votes cast last Tuesday for Mandel were not counted because he failed to pay a registration fee required of all write-in candidates by a recently enacted law.

ON RISING AND ROLLING TO THE RENAISSANCE

Dear Boss:

Went to cover some of the Rolling Renaissance scene, and was met with a morass of art. There were galleries full of paintings, starting with the Beats down through the posters and all. There was photography on end at the Light Sound Dimension. General artworks covered 20 years and there was even a show called Visionary. Poetry was being read in quantity.

Where to begin? I didn't. I went back to bed and thought about it a lot and finally settled on a poetry reading at the Glide Memorial Church.

It was Berkeley Poets night. The scene was about as mellow as a church can be made for poetry reading. The podium was candlelit, bringing the readers out in relief against the slides shown on the walls in the background. The audience was in darkness.

Personally I would rather curl into my own canoe with a poem than have anyone, especially the poet, read it to me. But I heard easy dramatic renditions and was generally able to get to the words. Those in the self-conscious pools around me couldn't.

When the proper sense-images brought any reaction, there was clapping. I guess anyone can relate to a Negro referring to himself as a knobby-headed kid or to being told that cocaine brings you down or that pot makes you sensitive.

The personal imagery was lost into those pools of darkness... Al Young speaking of a girl junkie as "handcuffed to the moment of take-off" was lost and so was most of the humor.

The audience just couldn't afford to go with them. So after fighting through 3 poets for about an hour or two I left. Manifestations of the renaissance will continue throughout the month with the coming week specializing in films.

The films will range from the poetry and abstract Monday night through improvisation by the Light Sound Dimension group Friday. Check the Scenedrome this week for details. And me, too. --bb

CAROUSEL FIGHTS STRAIGHT SCENE FOR FREE ZONE

The Carousel Ballroom family is fighting for its life amid a morass of legal hassles and big business finagling.

Tuesday, deputy police chief Al Nelder suspended all dances at the Carousel until June 25, except for a benefit for the Black Man's Free Store to be held on the 19th.

A restraining order banning any more performances at the dancehall was dropped. Headstone productions Inc., came to late Wednesday by the managers of the dancehall, City Center Ballrooms of California.

Performances will be held this week end -- "concerts" -- but no dancing will be allowed.

The agreement was reached after Ron Rakow consented to step down as the president of Headstone Productions Inc. Both Headstone and City Center will stage this weekend's entertainment.

City Center Ballrooms, a group of businessmen, originally tried to evict the Carousel crew claiming back rent was due. The matter is pending in civil court but could take weeks to resolve.

To speed up the process, the businessmen asked for a hearing before deputy chief Nelder to rescind the dancing permit of the Headstone crew.

But conflicting testimony at the hearing from two lawyers involved still left everyone in doubt as to just who was sponsoring the dances. Brian Rohan, a lawyer who was issued a permit for the dancehall claimed that he never produced a dance at the Carousel. Headstone Productions were never issued a permit.

Nelder's action came on the advice of Captain Phillip Kiley of the Mission District who claimed that immoral and illegal activities were taking place at the Carousel.

He alleged minors were allowed into the dancehall, marijuana was smoked, fire regulations were violated by overcrowding, and that there had been reports of nudity.

"After the so-called Digger Convention, I also saw a sign on the marquis which read CUNTVENTION," Kiley added from his seat next to the businessmen.

To substantiate his charges he said that two people had been arrested last Friday for possession of grass.

"The situation is obviously getting out of hand," Nelder said in response. "We're only interested in seeing that no one is injured."

"I'm telling you here and now that you're not to sponsor any dances for 15 days," he told the two lawyers.

Everyone seemed to have forgotten about Headstone Productions, who weren't even allowed a rebuttal to the charges.

"This is a typical land grab," Rakow told BARB afterwards, "now that we're doing things, everyone wants a cut."

The trouble began last Thursday, June 6, when the Carousel crew arrived at the ballroom to find the doors chained shut by the managers.

They finally managed to sneak in by the roof, BARB was told. Rakow then threw a table through one of the doors, and had the chains removed as city police stood by watching.

By last Friday, Riester, Rakow, and Jon McIntyre, managers of Headstone, declared the dancehall "Free Turf" and were preparing to bring the entire Carousel family to defend the building from the businessmen and city police. But no attack came.

The family includes 60 Carousel employees, Diggers, the Jefferson Airplane, the Grateful Dead, members of the Black Panther, and members of the Hells Angeles, McIntyre told BARB.

By larger count, they number more than 500 in all.

"This is liberated territory, a place where people can get together," Headstone manager Johnathon Riester told BARB last week. "We'll fly as straight as we can but we won't leave." --TAR

STILL NO VOTE

The Peace and Freedom Petition to get the vote for 18-year-olds on the November ballot has fallen disappointingly short of the needed number of signatures.

Brian Jobe, coordinator of the Northern California office of the party, told BARB, "All the counties in the state, especially those that had more candidates--like Alameda and San Francisco--were putting most of their efforts behind these people."

This helps to explain why only 160,000 out of a required 680,000 signatures were obtained. More than 100,000 of these were from Los Angeles County, while San Francisco managed only 8,000 and Alameda: 6,000.

The Peace and Freedom Party statewide council at Fresno State College this weekend will decide whether to continue the drive through August 13, in an effort to get the issue on the 1970 ballot.

PALO ALTO RESISTANCE READY TO HIT THE ROAD

A caravan from the Palo Alto Resistance will beat the drum of anti-draft action during a four-week California tour of street theatre happenings.

The calvacade will begin at the Oakland Induction Center on June 20 when ten young men are expected to refuse induction. The resisters at that time will try to induce others to say "No" to the system too.

Next scheduled stop on the tour will be the Solstice celebrations in San Francisco. The Palo Alto Resistance band "The Fool," a guerilla theatre troupe, speakers, leafletters, and projectionists showing Felix Greene's Vietnam film and others will all continue to spread the word en route.

This bug in the official soup of the draft will flit from northern California through Fresno and LA to San Diego for a month, helping to organize and boost Resistance groups as it goes.

Organizers of the tour indicate that most slots are filled, except for the guerilla theatre group, which is still seeking acting talent.

More information is available from Dennis Sweeney of the Palo Alto Resistance, at 323-0529.

SHIVA MISSIONARY AND COP GO UP IN CLOUD OF SMOKE

The Shiva Fellowship of the Neo-American Church held its second public meeting Sunday in Golden Gate Park at the foot of Hippie Hill. The purpose of the meeting was to complete the hour of prayer for peace begun last Memorial day.

That meeting was interrupted by the arrest of Rev. J. Fuck Poland for nude praying.

As the congregation gathered a Christian missionary began a lengthy sermon and two mounted policemen rode up to the edge of the group. When the sermon seemed to have reached its conclusion Willie Minzey, leader of the fellowship, asked for silence for the sacrifice.

He distributed joints to the worshippers and began the sacrifice. When the first clouds had cleared the missionary and the police were nowhere to be seen and the meeting continued for an hour or so in peace.

Minzey said that the meetings would be held every Sunday at the same time and place as long as possible. He pointed out that the sacrament had been a donation to him and that the frequency of the meetings would depend on the amounts of future donations.

Minzey says that there are no requirements for membership or attendance at services. He said, however, that he feels that most of the congregation would agree with his following statement.

"I believe that there are several serious problems that human intelligence cannot or will not solve;

that the failure to solve these problems, will within our lifetime, lead to catastrophic changes in conditions affecting all organic life on this planet; that the solution to these problems can be found only thru love, peace, and a deeper spiritual awareness of the basic truths of reality;

that an essential aspect of these truths is manifested in the concept of Shiva;

that this aspect is best revealed thru joyous group spiritual experience involving the use of psychedelic substances;

that spiritual necessity has historical, logical and ethical precedence over any legal, political or economic consideration; that whenever any culture contains a basic conflict between any spiritual imperative and any other ideal the profane must always yield to the sacred or that culture will perish."

ZOO STORY BUT WITH A TWINGE

Low on bread? About all you can afford to do is go to the zoo and watch the animals? Better make it quick, the San Francisco Park Commission wants to start charging you money.

"We haven't determined the details yet," Mrs. Carmine Dominguez, Park Commissioner, Chairman and soul member of the subcommittee to study the proposal for admission fees, told BARB. "At this point the commission has only passed a resolution, on my recommendation, to the effect that we will charge an entrance fee."

The details to be worked out are when admission will be charged and how much. Though Mrs. Dominguez was reluctant to say what the price would be, she agreed that fifty cents per person was a good guess. Children under sixteen would probably be admitted free.

Zoo director Ronald Reuther told BARB that the reason for the charges are twofold: "to add staff and badly needed facilities, including a medical facility, a modernized kitchen, a maintenance facility and an administration facility." Second, "I think it would deter some people who would maliciously damage the zoo."

He cited as an instance of maliciousness a drunk coming in and teasing the animals. The zoo had an incident like this in recent weeks that resulted in the death of a lion and the serious injury of the man involved.

Asked if the thought of a fifty cent charge would keep drunks out, Reuther said he thought it would. Asked if it would keep out drunks who had fifty cents, he said he didn't know, but he thought an admission booth, "would discourage them."

BARB also asked Mrs. Dominguez if the booth, and the admission charge, would discourage poor people.

"Consideration will be given to people who don't have enough money," she said, "Perhaps the Social Welfare Department could pass out tickets."

And for those with little income who chose not to go to the welfare department? "This is one of the wonderful things about San Francisco," said Mrs. Dominguez, "There are so many places that a person can go for free."

IF NOT IN PARIS THEN HERE

They can't march in Paris, perhaps mightn't in London, but certainly will in San Francisco.

The SF Mime Troupe marching band on Monday will lead a demonstration into the financial district while playing the "Internationale."

Then the sidewalks of the Montgomery Street money barons will become the site of a rally, organized by the Young Socialist Alliance and the Socialist Workers Campaign. At 11 a.m., outside the building at 400 Montgomery St. which houses the French Commercial Counselor's office, the socialists plan to talk about the significance of the revolutionary upsurge in France.

Socialist candidates for state offices plan to lead a delegation into the building to demand an audience with the representative of the Gaullist government.

The street rally is part of a current YSA campaign to support the French students and workers. Classes, forums, and leafletting of Bay Area factories have been other parts of the drive.

Derrel Myers will report on the latest campaign event at 8 p.m. Sunday at 2519-A Telegraph, in Berkeley.

Persons interested in joining the June 17 Montgomery St. rally or helping the campaign can reach the YSA at 849-1032 in the East Bay, or 552-1266 in San Francisco.

CREED'S CREED

'THE WAY IT WORKS'

by Dale Curtis

"What's changed? Just look in the window."

The big silver-bearded man lifted his hand from the big silver cash register in front of him and motioned toward a stack of used books sitting in full view of the street.

"Here is Miller, Fanny Hill, Lady Chatterly's Lover. All this stuff used to be under the counter. Now there's almost nothing under the counter, except maybe The Princess. It's all out in the open."

The big man is Earl Schilling. Along with his wife Leonore he has operated Creed's Book Store on the Avenue since 1938. Prior to that he worked for Tom Creed beginning in 1929, six years after Creed founded his crowded haven for used books in the midst of the university community.

In those days Creed's stood between Bancroft and Allston, on the present site of Ludwig's fountain. Displaced by the sprawling of the U beyond Sather Gate in 1958, for ten years Creed's has been a south-side landmark between Dwight and Haste, next to the Eclair bakery.

For many students and residents over the years memories of "Telly" included coffee dates at the Piccolo, shoplifting in Lucky's, and the inevitable browsing through the dusty stacks of Creed's. Like the other traditions, after the end of this month, Creed's will be only a memory.

Again it is a victim of expansion — this time by the bakery — and big Earl Schilling is not going to make another move. He is closing his doors.

Among those who will remember Creed's fondly are James Cahill, now a professor in oriental art at UC, and Gordon Cyr, PhD candidate in music at the university. When working there as an undergraduate Cahill wrote the score, and his friend Cyr the music, for an opera about Creed's called Credo in Unum Bookstore which has been performed several times locally.

The book business has been a quiet life for Schilling but not one without interest. "Some of the characters that came in would make a book in themselves. There was one T.A. who used to complain that all the women in his department were trying to rape him. But I don't know that you could believe him. And there was another guy who used to claim 'I've discovered the fourth dimension.' He would come in waving his tie in a circle, saying, 'this is it'."

One big change in the book vending business, Schilling feels, has been the switch from hardbound to paperback books. But of more interest and amusement to him is, as mentioned above, the way what used to be pornography has become acceptable and commonplace.

"You don't find many pornographers nowadays, shy or otherwise," he told BARB. "Have you read House of the Dolls? I haven't, but I hear it's pretty wild. Saw a pretty funny take-off on it on the Carol Burnett show last night." "Back in '45 a guy brought in four new hard-bound Millers that he got in Paris . . . I gave him $50 for them." Schilling in turn sold them for $100 to a publisher friend of his, and "He told me he sold them for $175 to another guy and he heard that they sold for $230 to the next guy. God knows what they finally brought."

Schilling again lifted his hand from the big silver register and rested it on a used copy of Tropic of Cancer marked down to 85 cents. "I tried reading Miller back in the 30's — when it was the naughty thing to do. I got bored with it though."

"In those days we used to have people come in and pay ten, fifteen, even twenty dollars for Lady Chatterly's Lover — and there wasn't so much money around then."

Such books are no longer the best sellers in Creed's. The greatest demand now is for the works of mysticism and the occult. Witchcraft, palmistry, and astrology are now greater mysteries than sex, if sales are any indication. Or perhaps magic has more meaning in today's world.

Earl Schilling sells it, and much more. He is satisfied with the life the store has given him. "I've helped to educate more kids than any professor up here," he said with a wide smile that took in this BARB reporter and went beyond to survey the enormous heaps of volumes all about the shop, "by finding the right books for them. Of course I've made some money on them too. That's the way it works."

KING SCHOOL BLACK-RUN AND BLACK-BEAUTIFUL

By Jesse Tepper

Benjamin Franklin Junior High was the graduation place for the private, black-run, black-organized, Martin Luther King, Jr. Elementary and Junior High School, last Friday night.

The event itself was significant. The sixth grade graduating class consisted of twelve boys and one girl. One boy was white, the rest black (before the graduation newsmen had asked the white boy "Do you feel any different being in a black school?" "Why should I?" he replied).

The class is unusual because all the students can read, write and speak. Their interests range from black pioneers to black panthers, poetry to biology. They have published a primer (THE JAMES BROWN READER) and their other writing covers stories, essays and poems. Their school work is superior to what black or white children in San Francisco public schools receive.

But more importantly, these black ghetto children, all from poor families, are the richest children one can imagine. They have been in a school which loved and respected and taught them. They are confident and their inner strength is apparent. Not only do they have soul, but also spirit.

The Martin Luther King, Jr. School, run by Mrs. Inez Andry, chairman, and the rest of the Hayes Valley School Committee, and staffed by Mr. Welvin Stroud, has been the first revolutionary step taken in black education in San Francisco.

The school is black-run and black-organized and black-beautiful. It is loving and it is relevant.

and parents mix together, learning from one another. It is an adaptation of the one room schoolhouse to an urban situation. First graders, ninth graders, babies and parents mingling, talking and learning.

If America wishes to survive (a questionable hypothesis), this type of education must be encouraged. Conspicuously absent from the ceremony were: members of the press, city officials, members of San Francisco Board of Education, members of any Board of Education, and the Mayor of San Francisco.

The Martin Luther King, Jr. School will have a summer session beginning in July. Donations are needed and inquiries welcomed. The address is Martin Luther King, Jr. School, 584 Page St.,

PROVO ROCK FOR LOVE OF CHRIST

A Rock Mass played by the Purple Earthquake will probably be the loudest sound heard this Sunday morning at Provo Park in Berkeley when Clint Taliaferro is ordained as a minister in the Brotherhood of the Love of Christ.

Taliaferro has been working with the Berkeley Free Church since it began last year. From here he will go into a "coffee house ministry" in Eugene, Oregon.

"Happy clothes" are appropriate for the occasion, Taliaferro said.

His coffee house in Eugene will be called "The Militant Mug," and will probably be similar to "The Collector" in Hayward.

Taliaferro told how his coffee house ministry came about.

A man from Eugene was in the Haight looking for his runaway son when he met Taliaferro and rapped with him about what was going down. Taliaferro explained about uptight communities and places to go.

The father dug it. He dug it so much he offered to back Taliaferro in a coffee house in Eugene, and it's happening, beginning the end of June.

What Taliaferro aims to do is have nightly happenings with young guitarists, poets, draft-resisters, writers and anybody else doing his thing for a receptive audience. Between scheduled happenings, The Militant Mug will be staffed by volunteers who know how to listen.

Eventually the police and the rest of the straight community in Eugene will begin to see what's happening, Taliaferro hopes. That's part of his job. He said it often starts when someone's father comes looking for his son, and discovers personally that the creeps aren't creeps.

At the Sunday ordination in Provo Park, Dick York of the Berkeley Free Church will give the sermon. It starts at 11 a.m.

PFP SUIT BACKED BY AFFIDAVIT

More than 50 affidavits support a $1.2 million suit brought by the Peace and Freedom Party against the City and County of San Francisco, according to Denis Mosgofian of the PFM elections committee.

The PFP suit charges that party members were deprived of their voting rights in the June 4 primary election, and accuses SF Registrar of Voters Basil R. Healy of instructing his employees that write-in votes should not be counted.

Most Peace and Freedom candidates in San Francisco were official write-ins, who had filed and paid registration fees.

The lawsuit asks Healy and California Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan to show cause by June 26 why all PFM requests should not be granted, including placing all Peace and Freedom candidates on the November ballot.

Plaintiffs in the suit include write-in candidates Kathleen Cleaver, Ivo Buddeke, Joe Edmiston, Eric Murphy, and Walter Battaglia. Paul Jacobs and Marvin Garson, whose names appeared on the June 4 ballot, are also listed as plaintiffs.

Four PFP registrants are acting as plaintiffs on behalf of the 14,637 Peace and Freedom registrants in San Francisco.

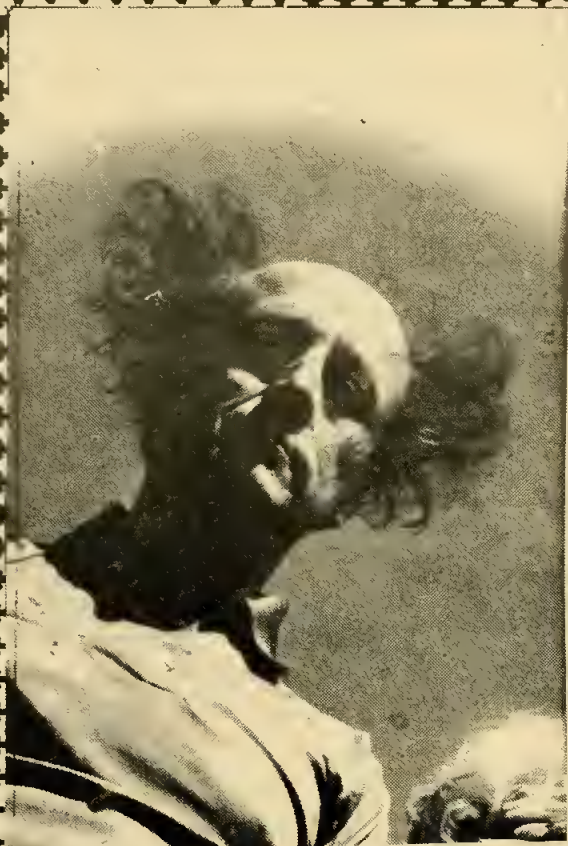

The suit asks that no ballots be destroyed, that Healy count the write-in votes, and that he refrain from obstructing write-in voting in the future.

The new party is seeking a judgment for damages covering all campaign expenses, general damages of $200,000, punitive damages against Healy and his staff in the amount of $1 million, damages because the candidates were demeaned and the party was humiliated, and damages for the

ARTIST-LOVER

CANDID CANDIDATE FOR HOST

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

The May issue of Ramparts Magazine sent my head spinning. The article on the suppressed writings of Mark Twain on U.S. imperialism and the article on L.B.J. and the Rackets completely disenchanted me from any vestiges of lingering respect I ever had for our Government. Our whole system, even the Supreme Court, is infested with money-grubbing rats with such powerful roots deep in the heart of Texas that I doubt if even an honest man like McCarthy could even phase the infection. However, I cannot get up much indignation against all our racketeers and pay-off politicians. They are just step children of a legal structure that spawns crime. It is the brain-washing organizations of this country that have taught our children for generations certain falsehoods that keep the whole, cruel, ugly legal machine going. It is these organizations that I feel deserve my wrath. Many of the people leading these organizations today are, to me, the equivalent to the High Priests, Scribes, and Pharisees who engineered the murder of that outstanding Hippy Jesus. These people today still carry on their persecutions in the name of Morality, God, and Law. And most ironically, the worst ones carry on the persecution of Christ IN THE NAME OF CHRIST himself! For instance, how many Christian Scientists, Southern Baptists, Missouri Lutherans, Roman Catholics, and others will lift a finger to help Jesus TODAY to lift the Cross of all anti-sexual laws off the backs of his Brothers? How many of these modern Scribes and Pharisees, the up-right (also up-tight) religious pillars of our churches today, will help Jesus and his Brothers (50,000 in jail) by voting to repeal all laws regarding Marijuana? Jesus drank wine, grass is just as harmless. As corrupt as Johnson and his appointees in graft may be, they did not disturb Jesus so much as those Pharisees and Scribes against whom he used his most biting wit. For their corruption was infinitely more blameworthy than that of the racketeers, tax collectors and Caesars. It was NOT the tax collectors, the racketeers, the bandits, nor Caesar who plotted the crucifixion of Jesus

Then, or Today. It was the Scribes and Pharisees then, and IT IS the upright religious and well-to-do "Christian" citizen TODAY. The Brothers and Sisters of Jesus can rot in prison today and these Stone-hearted Pharisees today will not believe nor FEEL this Fact: The cruelty of our laws on sex, drugs, etc. They seal off themselves from Feeling and Seeing by talking about the Communist threat. Unless these Pharisees experience a drastic conversion as did that famous Pharisee St. Paul, they will lead themselves, their children, and the rest of us into more wars and riots and tyrannies unimaginable. Saint Paul, you recall, was on his way to Damascus with papers signed by the High Priest authorizing him to arrest and imprison all those dangerous and immoral revolutionists who followed Jesus. Suddenly on the road before reaching Damascus he had an involuntary psychedelic experience that annihilated his conspiracy-hunt Ego Trip. Upright, religious citizens who still fear Communists more than you love your Brother, I venture to suggest and hope that you are now on YOUR Road to Damascus. It's possible some morning your son, cousin, nephew or daughter will serve you a glass of orange juice spiked with LSD. And if you are as fanatical and "righteous" as St. Paul was, you may end up temporarily in a mental ward, as he did. Buy you'll pull thru, as he did; and the scales will drop from your eyes, as did his; and you'll walk out into a new world where prisons are obsolete and sex is beautiful. Meanwhile, as you sit praying in your pews on Sunday, remember that Jesus blew His cool one morning in the Temple courtyard overthrowing the tables of the money-changers and peddlars of sacrificial doves. Meditate on this when you see His beautiful Black Brothers today blow their cool and upset a few of YOUR money-changers and pigeon-peddars. And when you have your police posed and ready to suppress and, harass and arrest the young protestors, demonstrators, and revolutionists; pause a moment and look over that hill and see if you can't catch a glimpse of Damascus.

WRATHFULLY YOURS,

Arthur

PS: I do not mean to single out a few of the Churches. In varying degrees ALL the 200-odd splinter Christian groups are guilty of castrating, harassing, and persecuting Christ's brothers. In many of the Churches there are small remnants of aware souls who push for reform against heavy odds in their own parishes.

QUESTION: In a recent column you referred to a medical underground weekly called the A.M.A. News. I would like to place a subscription for my doctor to this paper. He is a real good doc and all but seems to have blinders on. Could you give me the address?

ANSWER: Almost every physician in the United States receives the A.M.A. News, the official newspaper of the American Medical Association. I referred to it facetiously as an "underground" weekly because it presents views often at odds with its own members and the rest of society. For example, the A.M.A. opposed health plans such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield, bitterly fought and lobbied against Medicare for the aged, and only in the past year has acknowledged a fact long known to both patients and practicing physicians, that a shortage of physicians exists in the United States.

DOES LSD REALLY HARM CHROMOSOMES?

Distortion of "reality" is an effect attributed to the psychedelic drug LSD. But more dangerous distortions may be caused by those who oppose new ideas out of fear, ignorance and prejudice. The LSD controversy may well be remembered in history as ranking with the persecution of those who thought the earth was rounder than the universe did not really move about the earth.

How did the LSD-chromosome story begin? One day a physician visiting the San Francisco area for a medical meeting was walking through the Haight-Ashbury district. He gawked at the hippies in their beads, long hair and flowers, shook his head and said, "My God, look at those kids. Something must be wrong with their chromosomes." Then, (contrary to the rules of scientific procedure) he set out to prove that LSD was harmful.

Since that time several reports have purported to prove that LSD was harmful to chromosomes and each was widely reported in newspapers and magazines. But scientific investigations and conclusions require time. Only now is a balanced picture of the chromosome question emerging.

In the October 27, 1967 'Science,' a team of researchers from the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California at Berkeley reported their study of chromosomes of LSD users in the Haight-Ashbury. They found no difference between the chromosomes of LSD users and non-users. The same results were found in a study of Dr. Nicholas Petrakis, a hematologist of the University of California School of Medicine at San Francisco. These two studies finding no chromosomal damage in LSD users were reported in the San Francisco Chronicle but received little or no notice elsewhere.

Child psychiatrists Bender and Sankar of the Creedmoor State Hospital in New York were disturbed by reports of LSD-induced chromosomal damage because they had treated schizophrenic children with pure known LSD (with favorable results) in quantities of 100 to 150 micrograms every day from 5 1/2 to 35 months. The children's chromosomes were examined 20 to 48 months after LSD therapy discontinued and were found to be unchanged. Bender and Sankar's findings were reported in the February 16, 1968 'Science.' Their conclusions were "... the negative findings are significant because these children received up to 150 micrograms daily of pure chemical over a known period of time, even as long as 2 and 3 years, in contrast with studies by Irwin and Egozcue, whose subjects received unknown materials of unknown strength."

A series of one does not make a scientific study, but it is of interest to note that Dr. Timothy Leary, who has taken LSD well over 400 times, recently had his chromosomes examined by the Harvard University Medical School. They were found to be within normal limits.

"LSD, Chromosomes and Sensationalism," a paper prepared for Psychedelic Review #10 by Joel Fort, M.D. and Ralph Metzner, Ph.D., reviews the LSD chromosome controversy. The authors conclude that at present the question of LSD-induced chromosomal damage is, at best, undecided.

Another part of their conclusions states "Women in the first trimester of pregnancy (1st 3 months) would be wise to avoid the use of all drugs, particularly those which affect the brain and mind, including caffeine, alcohol and nicotine."

Dr. Schoenfeld welcomes your questions. Write to him c/o Berkeley BARB, P.O. Box 5017, Berkeley, CA, 94705.

William Mandel, Berkeley writer and authority on the USSR, has told BARB of an old German calendar his father has from the Weimar Republic. The calendar covers the period 1920-26.

"These were the quiet years," Mandel says, "yet during this period, this calendar lists 400 political assassinations by the Right and 22 by the Left."

Mandel feels that America is fast becoming "sick" like the German people during the "quiet years" of the Weimar Republic. He thinks there is no "overall conspiracy" but rather the assassinations of Pres. Kennedy, Malcolm X, Medgar Evers, Martin Luther King, and Senator Robert Kennedy reflects a sick society like Germany.

Add to this list the Painter's Union assassinations of their leaders here in the bay area, then one, indeed, gets a picture of a God-fearing, 100% sick society.

Yet, to solve a murder is to find the motive for the murder, especially a political murder. There now exists no effective anti-war campaign against Vietnam in the upcoming elections.

There is your motive; to make ineffective the war against the war.

And if Senator Edward Kennedy persists in following his political credo, he, too, will be assassinated. Example: "Abroad, Kennedy suggests the retirement of Nato ... he is for UN admission of both Chinas, believes the strength of Communist China to be defensive, not offensive, in regards the US"—from an ad in the Berkeley Gazette, June 8, of his book 'Decision For a Decade.'

Ted Kennedy is "mad at what happens in this country. He does not know whether this is the act of a single person or if this is the act of a conspiracy" is the way Sander Vanocur (Chan, 4) put it to millions of TV viewers the night he flew back on the plane with the body of Sen Robert Kennedy.

"There's kind of a pattern, faceless men—that's the phrase I heard" from the Kennedy family on the plane, he said.

Izvestia, the other paper in Moscow, put it this way: "The same conspiracy that killed President Kennedy killed his brother." They also feel that if Sen. Kennedy were elected President, he would "re-open the hearings into the assassination."

This week, Mark Lane was quoted over KGO as saying that Sen Robert Kennedy had told him "weeks before he was killed" that he felt a conspiracy existed to kill his brother and he would "hunt down those responsible," if elected President.

Too late. Press reports tell of Ted Kennedy's family wanting him to retire, while on the other hand, Happy Humphrey wants him to be his VP. The last remaining Kennedy's reply was he will continue being a US Senator.

He has quite a decision to make. If he backs down and remains just another goddamned Senator, then whoever killed his brothers have already killed him—be it the sick society of middle-class white racist America or the pattern of faceless men now running our country.

To: The Editor

Dear BARB:

These pages were lifted from the POSTAL RECORD, the official journal of the National Association of Letter Carriers, May 1968.

I hope you have room to do an article on it. I haven't seen anything so sociopathic since Hitler's Tirades against the Jews.

This article appeared in the issue which introduced postal workers to the new Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson, former Johnson Special Assistant & described by David Brinkley as a "Texas Oil Millionaire."

The article is pure hate which appears to have sprung from a Southern Baptist frame of reference. I work with the Post Office in L.A. So far there has been no hassle about hair although my hair isn't too long.

Upon being hired the superintendent took me aside and seated at his desk told me I should trim my hair. He went on to say someone is trying to pass legislation—etc. but I cut him off when I mentioned the word "unconstitutional" and "who is creating the problems?"

I get crank complaints from postal workers wives who write venomous notes to the downtown office. "I saw a hippy delivering mail and he looked just terrible—etc." The persons receiving the complaints duly sends them down to the offenders sub-station with some heavy editing and exaggeration. God damn it, it's a Baptist plot or my name ain't Raoul Pershing.

The morning of June 5, 1968, I woke up about eleven o'clock with a vague memory of having dreamed that a friend of mine came into my pad and told me that Kennedy had been shot. I didn't think much about it. I have weird dreams all the time, and just assumed that the primary election had triggered some sort of memory of that November 22.

Then when I got to my job, my employer called me. He thought that I'd like to be filled in on recent developments. So, my unpleasant "dream" turned out to be real. Try that on some time for trauma.

Understand, I'm not claiming a psychic experience. My friend actually did come round to give me the news, but due to my heavy-sleeping propensities it only registered in a dreamlike way.

That evening I went to see some friends; I needed a good scene. The husband, who normally is apolitical, was badly shaken. The wife, a tough woman who has taken innumerable crises in stride, had a great need this time to talk it out with someone. The eleven-year-old son was desolated. Just at the time of his dawning of awareness of national and world events, Kennedy had happened to be his hero. Then this occurred. I doubt that the boy will ever be able to feel any confidence in the American system again.

I don't quite know how to continue. In the past I've done more than my share of hacking at "American violence" and "our sick nation," and today those are truisms that everybody is talking. LBJ sets up a committee to investigate American violence, and makes some remarks on the subject on which you must agree—not forgetting that LBJ himself is the man who, by shutting off all traditional avenues of social action, created a national climate in which violence is no longer a kick but a desperation measure. The man who felt that he held the monopoly on violence, so nobody else had a right to do anything but "disagree."

And a lot of the comments are distinguished by their irrationality. What does "American violence" have to do with a guy raised and conditioned by the Arabic culture, which is even more violence-oriented than ours? (that is, on the assumption that the guy is guilty as charged; but I don't propose to hold a trial by newspaper).

And the furor over gun laws, which may have their merits; but what does the mail-order business have to do with a guy swiping his brother's pistol (once again, on the assumption as above)?

But the timing of it does cause it to make some sense. On top of a man's triumph through the traditional orderly American electorate system suddenly comes his defeat through the raw primeval system originally invented by Cain. An irrational reaction is quite understandable. Who could be rational? I sure wasn't. And as you can tell, I still am not, really.

FREE CHURCH SET TO ROAR ONCE MORE

The Free Church is open again at its new location at 2516 Durant Avenue. The old Free Church building was demolished earlier last week to make room for more parking spaces.

The new location is in the basement of an old church building and is marked by a sign on the street in the shape of a Yellow Submarine, decorated with a Peace Cross and the Omega of the Resistance.

What's happening at the Free Church? The same, plus some: Switchboard and Drug Crisis Intervention (549-0649) open 12 noon to 12 midnight. Hopefully it will be open later in the summer, when there are some more volunteers (badly needed). Crash pads for one or two night emergency crashing available after 7 p.m. at Switchboard every night. Also, run-away help.

Plus, a sort-of-coffee-house Common room, for sitting, rapping, crafting, organizing, etc. Campus Resistance will also be meeting there from time to time.

(Dick York, one of the priests at the Free Church is a member of the Resistance, having turned in his clergy exemption card Oct. 16 -- he has received a Delinquency warning)

Every Saturday night the Free Church celebrates the Liberated Zone with a worship-happening in the Church upstairs. Features: rock masses, light shows, etc.

This Saturday, June 15, at 8:00 p.m. there will be a service at the Free Church to express Solidarity with Frs. Phil and Dan Berrigan and the Rev. James Mengel, the clergy who poured their blood in the Selective Service files in Maryland, and later poured home-made napalm on them and set them on fire; with Dave Harris, "the most wilful violator I have ever known" (Judge Carter); and with the Rev. Bill Coffin and Dr. Spock and their co-defendants.

Featured at this service: Liberation Litany, Light Show, Vietnamese music, a Battle tape of the US counter-offensive in Saigon, May 1968. And other goodies.

The Free Church has a new priest: Jock Brown, who was fired from the Episcopal Seminary here in Berkeley last year for making

CLEAVER PINS PIGS

they told us not to move, to raise our hands. This we did, and an army of Pigs ran up from the street and started kicking and cursing us, but we were already beyond any pain, beyond feeling. The Pigs told us to stand up. Little Bobby helped me to my feet. The Pigs pointed to a squad car parked in the middle of the street and told us to run to it. I told them I couldn't run, and then they snatched Little Bobby away from me and shoved him forward telling him to run to the car."

"It was a sickening sight. Little Bobby, coughing and choking on the night air that was burning his lungs as my own were burning from the tear gas, stumbled forward as best he could, and after he had traveled about ten yards the Pigs cut loose on him with their guns, and then they turned on me."

Powerless to stop it, Cleaver said he watched as the "mad-dogs blasted Little Bobby into eternity." "It was the coldest of blood," Cleaver said. "It was murder. And that must never be forgotten, that the Oakland Police Department MURDERED Little Bobby, and they cannot have that as a victory," he said.

The Cleaver #2 Affidavit con-too much noise about the war, and for supporting Dick and Joy York, and Darrow and Glee Bishop, when they sat-in on a military micky-mouse service at Grace Cathedral (story covered by BARB) which featured marching guns in to the Sanctuary. Jock Brown also visited Hanoi last October.

Free Church needs: more Switchboard volunteers, more Crash-pad housing, an electric typewriter.

Also, they would like to encourage all groups: bands, mime, political, communes, and other people doing groovy things to let Switchboard know who and where you are: Switchboard can plug people into people.

Bay Area Peace and Freedom organizations, winded by the primary elections, and by the disorientation caused by the Robert Kennedy slaying, and by their habitual in-fighting, are pushing to get the PFM show back on the road. Two meetings during the past week moved the new party at least one step nearer to being an organization representative of statewide opinion.

The Berkeley and San Francisco county groups selected members to the Council of Delegates, which will act as the policy making body for the California PFM as a whole.

The Council of Delegates will meet for the first time this weekend in Fresno.

A two-day convention of the San Francisco Peace and Freedom Movement last weekend reconstructed the county organization and established its priorities from among a few dozen suggested projects. Debate polarized around arguments for centralization with emphasis on national issues and national organizing, versus decentralization with emphasis on local issues and local organizing.

The decentralists won. Under the adopted structure, the County Central Committee of the P&F PARTY can act only under the direction of the County Council of the P&F MOVEMENT. The County Council consists of two representatives from each San Francisco neighborhood group.

Seven items were given top priority for PFM efforts in SF: local contact work to solidify the PFM base in the neighborhoods, police control projects, education on the Huey Newton issue, rent and tax control programs, summer draft resistance, PFP electoral campaigns, and opposition to current urban renewal programs.

In Berkeley and Alameda County the Peace and Freedom energies will focus on mobilizing a massive demonstration for the Huey Newton trial next month, resistance in the armed forces, and community control of the police in Berkeley.

If the PFM can gather 5,500 valid signatures on a petition, the November city ballot will include a proposed City Charter amendment which would establish two police commissions in Berkeley — one in the uplands and one in the ghetto flatlands. Police agencies in the two areas would be responsible to their respective citizen-elected commissions.

At the Wednesday night Alameda County meeting, the PFM members discussed various ways to strengthen the movement without sacrificing a radical stance. They then elected 13 representatives to the statewide Council of Delegates.

The delegates are Bobby Seale, Dennis Creek, David Rynin, Leo Seidlitz, Dave Kotz, Barbara (Israel) Stevens, Bob Avakian, Andy Truskier, Bob Fitch, Ken Paff, Joe Frantz, Nancy Hassler, and one person from the south county whose name was unknown at BARB press time.

The meeting decided to hold another election of delegates before the second meeting of the statewide governing body, expected three months from now.

re per le strade. Come il PC, che ostacola la rivoluzione lavorando come fa nel sistema».

Parole del genere, qualche anno fa, avrebbero provocato reazioni molto dure. Oggi invece si discute. «La CGT — risponde un operaio giovane — ha seguito la base. Siamo noi che le abbiamo imposto il ritmo voluto».

Un anziano sindacalista, coi capelli grigi, robusto, interviene appoggiando la mano sulle spalle di uno studente: «E' la CGT che ha fatto lo sciopero e nessuno pensa di interromperlo».

Noi non abbiamo mai forzato la gente. Noi diciamo: ecco quello che abbiamo ottenuto. E' gli operai scelgono, decidono».

Un metallurgico spagnolo è arrivato con gli studenti e rompe il discorso: «Io sono iscritto alla CGT ma vi dico che non ha lavorato bene. Io rossa e su qualche fabbrica il tricolore è accanto alla bandiera rossa. La Francia del dialogo che si esprime si con durezza, ma senza odio. «Comunque vadano le cose, anche se ci saranno vinti e vincitori, molte idee resteranno e noi tutti non saremo più quelli di prima», mi dice un architetto, troppo «vecchio» per non essere con gli studenti, ma abbastanza «giovane» per non essere con gli ex-combattenti

Davanti alla Citroën gli studenti parlano con gli operai. «Noi vogliamo conoscere i vostri obiettivi e le vostre rivendicazioni perché siamo dei figli di borghesi e rischiamo di non capirvi. Diteci ad esempio se volete l'autogestione».

Dietro i cancelli della fabbrica occupata gli operai sorridono, con simpatia ma anche con un po' di ironia: «Siamo favorevoli all'autogestione, ma è una faccen-far funzionare la fabbrica e i tempi non sono ancora maturi».

Alcuni studenti (un migliaio) insistono per entrare nella Citroën: «E' necessario un'occupazione massiccia per impedire alla polizia di farvi sloggiare».

«L'occupazione di una fabbrica non si fa così. Ci sono delle regole da rispettare», dice un sindacalista. «Per esempio voi siete venuti sino qui, in molti, senza consulviato la vostra lotta, ma ci opponiamo alle iniziative avventate. Vi ringraziamo della vostra solidarietà».

L'atmosfera non è del tutto distesa. C'è un certo imbarazzo. Un vecchio metallurgico spiega: «Noi ce ne freghiamo delle ore supplementari. I voti dei socialisti e almeno per il momento un fatto compiuto. Il comitato centrale del partito ha ratificato a larga maggioranza la cosiddetta linea Tanassi-De Martino riassunta in un documento dove altre si afferma che esistono al presente le condizioni per una coalizione nativa con la Democrazia cristiana».

non significa che i socialisti voltano le spalle alla sinistra e passano alla direzione. In direzione come comitato centrale, tutti, la sola eccezione della sinistra lombardiana, hanno ardemente ribadito la loro fiducia in questa politica, e si riesca a conferire un rinnovato impegno riformista. La situazione da questo punto di vista rimane aperta. Il precedente 1972 potrebbe ritornare attuale come si ricorderà i socialisti si limitarono ad aprire dall'esterno il primo congresso, che fu tuttavia più « incisivo » e « pro-nativo ».

ne se aperta a tutti gli aspetti politici delle prossime settimane la decisione socialista rimane comunque un punto fermo importante. Si sono le opposizioni e le necessità che ha suscitato la parte considerevole del partito: a cominciare dallo stesso Nenni che — pur non preso parte alle votapartito è una tradizione di promozione della Democrazia cristiana, a un rafforzamento della opposizione di sinistra e a un grosso insuccesso dei socialisti.

Perché? Anche qui le diagnosi, per quanto variate nei particolari, concordano nell'indicare due cause di fondo. Da una parte la maniera come è stata realizzata la unificazione socialista: doveva essere un vasto rimescolamento di carte, uno scossone a tutto il sistema della partitocrazia italiana e si è risolta in una operazione di vertice che ha lasciato intatti, se non addirittura aumentati, tutti i vecchi mali e le vecchie strozzature. Dall'altra il centro-sinistra verifica via via perdendo la sua capacità innovatrice arrivando al termine della legislatura in condizioni di serio deterioramento». Il contrasto non si è aperto sulla diagnosi ma sulla terapia. Come arrivare all'auspicato rilancio del centro-sinistra? E, prima ancora, come stabilire se vi sono in concreto le condizioni oggettive e soggettive di questo rilancio? La minoranza riteneva che fosse sufficiente presentare le esigenze socialiste agli altri «partners» della coalizione e su di esse aprire la trattativa; la maggioranza ha ritenuto insufficienti e al limite mistificatorie queste «verifiche» di tipo tradizionale.

paese comprenda» ha detto al termine della discussione De Martino. I socialisti, nel corso degli ultimi sette o otto anni, hanno finito per pagare per tutti: per il moderatismo del centro-sinistra e per l'immobilismo dell'estrema sinistra, per i sostenitori della contestazione globale che però non vogliono mettere in pericolo i vantaggi del benessere economico, per i conservatori che hanno capito l'importanza (specialmente in questi tempi così inquieti) di un partito operaio al governo ma non vogliono cedere nulla del loro potere, e un po' per tutte le contraddizioni della società e del mondo in cui viviamo.

Anche i socialisti hanno bezioni — non aveva nascosto sin dall'inizio la sua ostilità al «disimpegno».

Si capiscono molto meno, invece, la sorpresa e lo scandalo che essa ha suscitato nella stampa benpensante e in tutti quei gruppi che dopo avere fatto l'impossibile per impedire l'ingresso dei socialisti al governo (o per ributarli fuori, come nel luglio del '64) ora gridano al tradimento perché non si sono presentati puntuali e disciplinati all'appuntamento.

HELP! SWITCHBOARD NEEDS YOUR HELP! (COMMERCIAL, RIGHT?)

We would love, cherish and appreciate anyone who could turn us on to the following:

A vacuum cleaner, 2 or 3 filing cabinets, a "Ditto" machine, bulletin board material (about 100 sq. ft.), a large desk and a small desk (one with the typewriter table in it) sign and poster-making materials. We have a continuous need for the following office supplies:

File cards, all sizes, ditto masters (if we get a ditto), mimeograph paper and mimeo stencils, cellophane tape, masking tape, thumb tacks, typing paper, onion-skin paper for typing, carbon paper, standard staples.

And for the following life-support items:

Meat, eggs, cheese, butter and dairy products, coffee, tea, sugar, chocolate, toilet paper, paper towels, tissue paper, AND MOST IMPORTANT: A CONSTANT FLOW OF INFORMATION ABOUT EVENTS AND ACTIVITIES AND ABOUT YOUR OWN INTERESTS.

SIMPLER FOLK THIS TIME ROUND

Black market E strings may hit the east bay soon as Berkeley prepares for next month's annual folk festival.

According to festival director Barry Olivier, this year's bash will be based around a somewhat simpler schedule than in past years.

"We found out that more was going on outside in the plaza than was happening in the workshop classrooms," Olivier told BARB Wednesday. "Consequently, there will be several informal folklore conversations and almost no workshops."

Olivier said that the festival, to be held July 4-7, will begin with a four-hour afternoon fair featuring all the artists. Later that night there will be a dance in the lower plaza.

Among this year's invited are Howlin' Wolf, Alice Stewart, Shlomo Carlebach, Jesse Fuller, John Fahey, The Quicksilver Messenger Service, Charles Seeger, Congress of Wonders, Dan Fredrickson, and Dr. Humbeads New Tranquility String Band. Sam Hinton will return as host.
